FRANCE REPLIES REGARDING NOTE ON JAP MANDATE

Interpreted As Acceptance of Principles Outlined
By U. S.

In Which She Surrenders
None of Overseas
Rights.

Washington, April 14.—France's reply to Secretary Hughes' note of April 4 regarding the Japanese mandate over the Pacific island of Yap is interpreted in official circles here as tantamount to acceptance of the principle laid down by the American government that the United States has surrendered none of its rights in the former German overseas possessions.

The text of the French note, which is in the form of a preliminary reply, was made public today both in Washington and Paris. It is signed by Premier Briand who gives assurance that a representative of the French government will place before the supreme council at its next meeting the question of Yap with the "greatest desire to find a solution which will give every satisfaction to the United States."

Premier Briand said that his government has already done all in its power to lend its aid to the American government in this matter. Reference is made to the French note of last February 18 which pointed out that while the decision of the supreme council of May 7, 1919, making no reservation concerning the mandate attributed to Japan over the islands of the northern Pacific, President Wilson and Secretary Lansing had formulated in the course of a meeting in the presence of the representative of the Japanese "categorical reservation concerning the island of Yap," and that the Japanese representative had not objected.

The full text of the French reply as received by the state department does not differ materially from that given out in Paris.

Paris, April 14.—Premier Briand has dispatched to Washington a note acknowledging receipt of the communication from the American state department regarding the mandate over Pacific islands north of the equator which was given to Japan.

The premier's note says a representative of France will take up the question when it comes before the supreme council, but that the most ardent desire is to find a solution giving satisfaction to the United States.

After acknowledging receipt of the American communication Premier Briand's note says:

"The memorandum being addressed to Great Britain, Italy and Japan simultaneously, a reply cannot be made until after an accord between the governments of the four interested powers at the next meeting of the supreme council."

"I desire, however, to declare now that when the question comes before the supreme council the representatives of France will approach the question with the most ardent desire to find a solution giving satisfaction to the United States. Your excellency knows that already the government of the Republic has done all that depended upon it to give its aid in this question to the American government."

By the note of February 18, after having noted that the decision of May 7, 1919, carried with it no restriction concerning the attribution to Japan of a mandate for the islands of the northern Pacific, my department explained to your excellency that, however, the United States and Secretary of State Lansing in the course of the preceding meeting had formulated in the presence of the Japanese representative categorical reservations on the subject of the island of Yap; that Baron Makino, Japanese representative on the supreme council had not refused to allow discussion of the question raised by the representatives of the United States and that consequently, the Japanese government had knowledge of the American reservations.

"The note concluded by saying that there were contained in it elements for further conversation between the United States and Japan which the government of the Republic would be happy to see result."

"That note was the same day communicated to the Japanese embassy in Paris, and your excellency was kind enough to express to my department a lively satisfaction with the same, and to give assurance that it would be particularly appreciated in Washington."

FRANCE WANTS 150 BILLION GOLD MARKS

Paris, April 14.—Germany's obligation to the allies will be fixed at between 130,000,000,000 and 150,000,000,000 gold marks by the allied reparations commission, says the Echo de Paris. The newspaper adds the exact figure will depend upon the solution of certain questions still being considered.

In case Germany resists settlement the newspaper declares, it is expected by the allies that France will recall two classes of recruits to the colors and proceed to occupy the Ruhr basin. This district includes the most important coal mines and industrial plants in western Germany.

EQUALIZING STEEL PRICES MAY INCREASE BUSINESS

Youngstown, April 14.—Stabilization of a price level in the steel industry, brought about by the United States Steel Corporation's reduction and the independents' increase, has not brought new business to a halt, but is expected to result in increased orders after the next two weeks, it is said by independent manufacturers here. At the announcement of the price changes, a number of wire orders were received from buyers seeking to stall themselves before the "eleventh hour" business was reduced, the independents holding to the new level.

Congratulations were extended the members of the special committee by Dr. J. C. Shiner, general chairman and Manager W. J. Lewis of the Chamber of Commerce expressed his appreciation of the work.

Manager Lewis read the following telegram from President W. W. Davis who is in New York on business, "Congratulations to boys who secure five—too many dead ones—Newark needs many of former has plenty of latter."

CHILEAN CABINET RECONSIDERS ACTION

Santiago, Chile, April 14.—Members of the Chilean cabinet who on Tuesday night presented their resignations to President Alessandri withdrew them last evening. The decision of the president to cancel the credentials of all diplomats belonging to the opposition parties was held in abeyance until after the members of the cabinet had taken this action and will be carried out by Jorge Matte, foreign minister, as soon as possible.

A great mass meeting was held in front of the president's house last night as a protest against the attitude of the decision which is bitter in its opposition to the government.

The conflict between the ministry and the senate came to a crisis Wednesday night when the nomination of Luis Aldunate as minister to France was rejected.

DEMOCRATS WILL OPPOSE SOLIDLY TARIFF PROGRAM

Bound By Caucus Action to Stand Unreservedly
Against It.

Debate on Colombian Treaty—Pomerene of Ohio
Favors It.

Washington, April 14.—With predictions of almost solid Democratic opposition, the emergency tariff and anti dumping bill was slated for general debate in the house today under the program contemplating a final vote on the measure before adjournment tomorrow. House Democrats were bound by caucus action yesterday to stand unreservedly against the measure and Representative Kitchin, minority leader, in a statement bitterly assailing the Republican temporary tariff program, predicted that "less than a dozen democratic votes will be cast for the Young bill."

Expressing the view of minority members of the ways and means committee, which formerly reported the emergency bill yesterday, Representative Kitchin in his statement declared the Republicans as "the enemy of the people." He said that the tariff program was a "great trust, the packers, the sugar trust and the woolen trust, $775,000,000 a year." The minority leader also asserted the terms of the anti-dumping provision would operate to disbar future trade with the central powers and smaller European states.

Debate on the Colombian treaty continued to occupy the senate today with Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, prepared to speak in favor of ratification as was Senator Max, Republican, Pennsylvania, should time permit before adjournment. Ratification was opposed in a discussion yesterday by Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, who declared it would cast a "shadow on the brightest page of the history of American accomplishments." Pending disposal of the treaty, which under agreement will come to a vote not later than April 20, action will be deferred on the Knox resolution introduced yesterday to terminate the state of war with Germany and Austria.

Pending in the senate today was the proposal of Republican senators to increase their membership on the 10 major committees, action on which was forced over yesterday by Democratic opposition.

AFTER M'GANNON; PERJURY CHARGED

Also Indict Newspaper Reporters On Charge of Intimidating Witnesses.

Cleveland, April 14.—Former Chief Justice William H. McGannon of the municipal court and May E. Neely were indicted for perjury in connection with the second trial of the judge for the murder of Harold Kagy, on which charge he was acquitted, by the grand jury today.

Indictments also were returned against Editor A. Allen, a newspaper writer at the time of the American election. Many of the most prominent newspapers in this country expressed at that time their disappointment over what they characterized as President Harding's policy of exclusion. Now they are pursuing the course saying nothing which might cause offense to the United States. The note of caution against the writing or speaking of provocative languages is constantly being sounded throughout the country.

R. R. OFFICIALS CANNOT COME

Will Be Here First of May
Instead of April 26.

The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from Chief Engineer A. C. Clark of the B. & O. in which he states that it will be impossible because of engagements in the east to be here for the subway conference on April 26, a time when Mr. Erickson of the Pennsylvania railroad is expected. He asks if it will be possible to meet the first week in May, hoping that Mr. Erickson may be able to come then also.

EXPECT THREE AUTO VICTIMS TO RECOVER

Covington, Ky., April 14.—The three girls injured in the automobile accident at Pike and Russell streets this city yesterday, in which four persons were killed, will recover, physicians at Elizabeth hospital said today. The injured are Ruth Potter, 20; Luella Schockman, 22, and Helen Paul, 20, all of Cincinnati. Coroner Stephens said he would hold an inquest tomorrow.

TORNADO KILLS 8 INJURES MANY

Melissa, Texas, April 14.—Citizens of Melissa today set about affording relief to a large number of families made homeless yesterday by a tornado and storm which swept this little town causing the death of eight persons and the injury of many more. Five of the eight dead are negroes. Five persons are injured, possibly fatally, while more than 50 received less serious injuries. A number of the injured are in hospitals at McKinney.

The tornado struck the town from the southwest and cut a swath northward, demolishing virtually every building in the business district and razing many houses. Fire broke out soon afterwards. Rain made the roads leading to town almost impassable and the force of the wind tore down telegraph and telephone wires that resulted in isolation for some time.

McKinney, Tex.—Five persons were killed and from 25 to 50 injured at Melissa, when a tornado struck the town.

FRENCH PRESS SAYS JUSSERAND NOT INFORMED

Base Comment On Extracts From President Harding's Message.

Unusual Feature Is Absence of English Newspaper Discussion.

Paris, April 14.—The text of President Harding's message had not been reached Paris this morning and the newspapers based their comment on extracts from the message thus far received. Some of the commentators, notably those of L'Homme Libre, and the Gaulois, criticized the lack of information possessed by France on the state of affairs in Washington.

The Cablegramme, a new daily representing important business interests said: "Mr. Jusserand was not kept informed as to what was going on at the White House and in the lobbies of the senate. Under the pretext of not wanting to offend American opinion, he has discouraged all initiative to promote our interests and has left us recently in a position of ignorance of things over there. It pains us that we must speak thus of such a man as Mr. Jusserand, but we are at a point where successes in the past cannot compensate for failure in the present."

The text of Mr. Harding's message had not reached Paris yet, and most of today's papers contained themselves with presenting such extracts as had been cabled to this city. Editorial comment continued to interpret the message as, on the whole, favorable to France.

Under the caption: "President Harding's good sense," the Figaro said:

"President Harding seems to have decided upon insisting in both America and Europe upon the policy of good sense. Nothing could be happier for France, whose interests have happily suffered from fanciful ideas on general and Wilsonism in particular. President Wilson did not take into account the facts. His views had always to prevail, notwithstanding the message reminds us that the international alone can pacify the world."

"The clear, decisive language of Mr. Harding renders us a real service," The Communist Humanite said.

"Mr. Harding's message reminds us that the international alone can pacify the world."

ENGLISH NEWSPAPERS REMAINING SILENT

London, April 14.—The most striking feature in connection with the news of President Harding's message of yesterday is the absence of any expression of an opinion by most leading journals of Great Britain. Only two of the big London newspapers, namely the Morning Post and the Daily Chronicle, have thus far ventured to publish editorial comment on the message while the Manchester Guardian, which is regarded as the most influential among the provincial journals is remaining silent.

The reason for this, it is pointed out, may be traced back to the editorial written at the time of the American election. Many of the most prominent newspapers in this country expressed at that time their disappointment over what they characterized as President Harding's policy of exclusion. Now they are pursuing the course saying nothing which might cause offense to the United States. The note of caution against the writing or speaking of provocative languages is constantly being sounded throughout the country.

SOME COW—KICKS OUT TAIL LIGHTS

Pittsburgh, April 14.—Chicago's fire producing cow, Washington's dynamite eating bovine and the mythical moon jumper have a rival in a Pennsylvania cow that specializes in kicking out automobile tail lights.

Fred Holman of Ingomar, when arrested on a charge of driving without a rear light burning, told Magistrate E. L. Succop that after purchasing a cow, he wired it to the back of a truck and started home. Soon afterward the animal kicked out the light, according to the buyer. Ten dollars was added to the cost of the cow when the magistrate imposed a fine.

TO INVESTIGATE FOOD CONTROL

Farm Bureau Discusses Resolution Introduced
Calling for Investigation of Agricultural Organizations.

Washington, April 14.—The resolution introduced in the house by Representative Gould, Republican of New York, calling for an investigation by the committee on agriculture of agricultural organizations and associations relative to the control and price of food products came in for considerable attention today at the American Farm Bureau Federation conference which is being held at the Hotel Hamilton in New York.

The Gould resolution declares that recent declines in agricultural products "have excited the fear and anxiety of our farming population and may cause them to be misled into the hasty adoption of plans or the formation of associations purported to provide a means of protection against loss but actually establishing production and distribution through means ultimately injurious to both producer and consumer."

It adds that any combination to restrict the production of foodstuffs or unduly advance their price would work a "cruel hardship" upon the people.

The committee would be instructed under the resolution to make an investigation of any such organization receiving appropriations from the treasury or which makes application for financial or technical assistance from any department of bureau of the government. It would be further directed to report its findings together with any recommendations necessary "to protect the public and provide unhampered food production and further to recommend such congressional or executive action as might remedy any existing condition."

Farmers allied with labor under the people reconstruction league also were speaking here today but it was said their conference having had no direct connection with the legislative conference. The sessions will last two days and reconstruction matters affecting their interests are to be discussed.

Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin will speak tonight on railroads while Senator Borah of Idaho and other senators and representatives are to speak.

WOMEN DISCUSS NEW LEGISLATION

Interest Centers on Recommendations of American Citizenship Committee.

Cleveland, April 14.—The morning session of today's meeting of the National League of Women Voters convention was called an hour early to expedite the clearing up of discussion on the legislative program as recommended in the committee reports of the seven standing committees.

The discussion of the recommendations of the American citizenship committee, the social hygiene committee, the women in industry committee and the election law and methods committee.

The Townsend committee, which recently introduced in congress, to standardize American schools under federal supervision, and equal citizenship rights for women, both recommended by the American citizenship committee are scheduled for discussion as is the social hygiene committee's recommendation for an equalization of penalty for men or women found guilty of moral crime and misdemeanors.

Consideration of these conference recommendations was delayed yesterday by a prolonged discussion of the preamble of the policy recommendations as presented by Mrs. F. Louise Shale of New York in which the Pennsylvania delegation took a prominent part contending for a state rather than a national program of activities.

The final report of the credentials committee and the election of officers and regional directors were on today's program.

Memorial exercises and a discussion of "future leagues of women voters," how to secure and honor them were featured in the afternoon session.

The annual banquet will be held tonight, featuring a series of "pittfalls in politics" with Mrs. A. B. Pyke of Cleveland, National Democratic committee member from Ohio and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Akron, vice president of the national Republican executive committee the speakers.

Upton arrived here this morning.

At the same time the president transmitted more than 30 names of men he had given temporary appointments while congress was in recess. The list included the name of John J. Each of Wisconsin, to be a member of the interstate commerce commission, whose confirmation was held up by opposition at the last session.

STRIKE ORDER SUPPORTED BY 100 INDUSTRIES

Federation of General
Workers to Back Up
Triple Alliance.

Conference With Lloyd
George Fails to Produce Results.

London, April 14.—The Federation of General Workers representing 1,500,000 persons in more than 100 industries outside the triple alliance decided today to support the triple alliance in its strike in the interest of the striking miners.

London, April 14.—A conference held this morning between Mr. Lloyd George the prime minister and a delegation of officials of the triple alliance which has called a strike for Friday night in support of the striking miners was concluded within two hours without any progress apparently having been made toward an adjustment of the grave labor situation. It was reported from the conference that the prime minister made a long statement, appealing to the railway men and transport workers who with the miners make up the triple alliance, asking them to exercise restraint and precipitate a crisis.

This plea, however, does not appear to have had effect.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, declared after the conference that he could see no prospect for the reopening of negotiations for an adjustment of the strike situation.

On the government side it was said the labor men were unable to present new arguments giving the government, any different view of their case, while the government it was understood did not indicate it was prepared to make any further concessions.

Thus the situation, early this afternoon appeared unchanged and the outlook gloomy.

The "triple alliance of labor" visited Prime Minister Lloyd George at his residence in Downing street this morning and began a conference which may have a vital bearing on the industrial crisis confronting the country.

Journalists were told by J. H. Thomas general secretary of the National Union of Railway Men that the call for the labor men was at the invitation of Mr. Lloyd George but the public was left to speculate whether this might indicate a new prospect for a settlement of the labor controversy or whether the "triple alliance" was merely delivering its answer to the prime minister's letter, asking the grounds on which the labor forces had decided to call a strike on Friday.

The letter which was delivered yesterday, was considered a serious effort on the part of Mr. Lloyd George to keep the door open for further negotiations.

The labor delegation left the prime minister's residence after a two hour conference, Mr. Thomas saying he saw no prospect for re-opening negotiations for an adjustment of the strike situation.

Labor members of the British house of commons, the national legislative committee of the labor party and leaders of the trades union congress met today to discuss the situation resulting from the call of the strike by the "triple alliance of labor" which is to begin at 10 o'clock Friday night. Heads of the "triple alliance" had consented to send representatives to the meeting which was considered here to be a day to afford the policy ray of hope that the great strike might yet be averted.

Labor members of parliament, however are quoted by the London Times as discouraging the building of over-optimistic hopes.

The house of commons was prepared today to discuss the reply to the king's proclamation regarding the recruiting of reserve force to act in the event a great strike should be developed. The house is expected to give notice that it would move the following amendment to the reply:

"The house regrets his majesty has been advised to take such costly and warlike measures, which are calculated to produce public feeling and are directed against loyal citizens who are exerting their legal right to resist encroachment upon the standard of living of themselves or their fellow workers."

Whether the call for a strike, issued by the "triple alliance" will be universally observed remains doubtful. The Daily Mail, which has canvassed several railroad centers, expresses confidence there will be no complete stoppage of traffic. Edinburgh reports there are in that city "no strike enthusiasm," while Glasgow claims that "certain areas are doubtful."

In other centers, including the big London terminals, it is said that train service will be reduced but not stopped. Experience is conclusive proof declared the Mail in commenting on the situation "that the general strike is not expected to succeed as the majority will not surrender to the minority. Will labor risk the commission of so fearful a mistake? Shall it be peace or the sword?"

BOLSHEVISTS BAR U. S. IMMIGRANTS

The Post of this city. Immigrants will be accepted, however, from steamers already on their way to Russia from America.

The Soviet consul in Libau has issued a notice that immigrants arriving later than April 20 will not be admitted to Russia.

Polly Acts as Cupid

By FREDERICK CLARKE

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Frank," said Uncle Will, suppressing a groan of pain as he shifted his gaiter leg upon the sofa and sat up to greet his nephew, "come here, you scoundrel. How old are you?"

"Twenty-four, sir," answered his nephew respectfully.

"Twenty-four! And I was engaged three times before I was twenty-four. Confound you, sir, why the deuce won't you ask Dorothy to marry you?"

"Because I don't love her, my dear uncle," answered the young man.

"Love! Love! What has that got to do with it?" exclaimed the old man frantically. "How can you help loving every girl at your age? Confound you, Frank, sometimes I think you are as coldblooded as Ephraim over there."

Ephraim, hearing his name spoken, stirred in his cage.

"But Dorothy doesn't like me at all," said Frank Lessing. "Be a little reasonable, uncle."

"I'm not going to argue with you, sir," shouted the old man. "But I'm not going to see the Eastdale property divided. It cost me thirty years of work to get that piece of land together, and if you don't get married I'll leave it to the Home of Deceased Parrots that I'm contemplating establishing."

"Ha! ha!" croaked the parrot. "Serves him right! Serves him right! Confound your impudence!"

"Frank, put a cover over that bird, that's a good fellow," said his uncle pettishly. And Ephraim, thus suppressed, subsided into silence.

Frank Lessing was the orphaned child of a cousin of William Jennings, and the kind-hearted old merchant had made himself responsible for his upbringing. That he should marry his daughter Dorothy had been his earnest wish, and of late he had begun to express it forcibly. But between the young people a feeling of constraint had arisen which was rapidly broadening into active dislike.

Frank Lessing, during the course of a business trip out of town, felt the loss of his cousin profoundly. It was with happy anticipations, therefore, that he rang the doorbell of his uncle's house on his return, after an absence of a couple of weeks.

"Hello, Frank, come in," cried his uncle, shaking him by the hand. "Confound you, sir, I've missed you more than I should like you to know."

"How's Dorothy, uncle?" asked his nephew.

The old man looked at him with pathetic eagerness.

"She's well," he grumbled. "But, Frank—he led him into the little room which had been fitted up as his cousin's boudoir—"you'd better try your fortune again. Now listen to me and don't be a fool. Do you see Ephraim in that corner?"

"Why, yes, uncle."

"Well, he lives here now."

"What? Dorothy's been making friends with Ephraim?" asked the young man incredulously.

When he was left alone Frank lifted the cover from the cage and regarded the parrot intently. It stood watching him, its head on one side, its claw poised, its beak half open. And then from its throat proceeded a most remarkable sentence, and one which Frank Lessing had never heard it say before.

"Oh Polly," it croaked, "can't you tell Frank—"

"Go on," shouted the young man. "Tell Frank what?"

Frank Lessing turned away in disgust and flung the cover over the cage.

"Oh Polly, can't you tell Frank that I do really love him?" the parrot squawked in shrill protest.

Frank Lessing turned as a light footfall sounded in the hall. He strode toward the door. Dorothy came in, stopped, looked at him, and suddenly found herself in his arms.

"Dorothy, can you—can't you?" Frank began, then stopped, for there was no need to say anything more. In fact five whole minutes had passed before a heavy, gaiter footstep near them suddenly recalled them to the conscience of externals.

They sprang apart, looking at the old gentleman guiltily—and then Dorothy perceived Ephraim's cage.

"Why, uncle, whatever made you put Ephraim in my room?" she asked.

"Only a whim, my dear," responded the old gentleman. "I thought perhaps he might give Frank a message from me."

Don't Neglect the Eyes.

A child's eyes should be examined by a good oculist, at the age of four years and again at seven—these are very important ages. The child may apparently see quite well, but there may be a chance that he has slight astigmatism which can only be detected by the oculist. In such a case glasses should be provided at once, and if worn as soon as needed will probably rectify the trouble in a year or two.

Fatal to Friendship.

"Mr. Wadleigh seems to have few intimate friends."

"It's his own fault."

"Why so?"

PUT ONE OVER ON BUTCHER

Incident Proves That Art of Shopping Has Not Been Altogether Thrown in Discard.

A disguised-looking woman stepped up to a showcase in the meat market, and after she had bought several pieces of meat, she asked: "Have you any shinbone that I could use for soup stock?" "Just the thing," responded the obliging clerk as he took up a long shinbone and knuckle and balanced it on his left hand. "What is it worth?" asked the woman. "Just a half-dollar," said he. "It is such a large piece, would you mind cutting it at the joint?" "Sure, I will," he replied. After cutting off the large knuckle he again balanced the long, slim shinbone on his hand and said: "You may have this for 40 cents." The woman looked at the piece for a moment, then at the knuckle and said: "Is that piece you cut off worth only 10 cents?" The clerk hesitatingly replied: "Yes, madam." "All right," said the woman, "I'll take that knuckle."

NO WONDER THEY LAUGHED

American Soldier in Paris Had Made a Small Mistake in Copying the Street Name.

During the war, while I was on leave of absence in Paris, relates a returned soldier, I decided to take a walk alone. I thought it advisable to copy down the name of the street in which I was staying, so I wrote down some words printed on the sidewalk. When I was ready to return I found that I could not locate the street where my hotel was, so I approached a woman, showed her what I had written in my book, and tried to learn from her where the place was. She laughed and said something in French, which, of course, I did not understand, and passed on. A number of times I did the same thing, and every one I stopped laughed, and passed on until a man said in English, "What is it you want?" Delighted to find that I had discovered one person who spoke English, I said, "That is the name of the street where I am staying, and I am lost. Will you please direct me?" "You haven't written down a street name," said the man, "but 'post no bills.'"

Skidding Is Overcome.

Attention is called in a circular report from Sydney, Australia, to a new invention of a front-drive vehicle which entirely prevents skidding. A test over 16,000 miles of rough road has been made. It is claimed, with no signs of wear. The front wheels are pivoted in the center, which enables the steering of the car with much greater ease than in the rear-wheel-driven machine. The device is now attached to an old worn British car which, prior to the attachment of the device, weighed 32 cwt., with a speed of thirty-eight miles an hour traveling fifteen miles on one gallon of gasoline. After alteration and application of the front drive device, the car weighs 35 cwt., has a speed of forty-five miles an hour and will go seventeen and one-half miles on a single gallon of gasoline.

Tuberculosis in France.

That of 368 antituberculosis dispensaries in France only ten per cent are situated in Paris was hailed as a "happy omen" at the second international conference. Only a few organizations were actively engaged in antituberculosis work in France before the war. Today, largely through the activity of the Rockefeller Foundation, in addition to the dispensaries mentioned, there are 10,000 sanitarium beds for tuberculous patients; many hospitals have provided isolation wards; the boarding out of anemic children in rural homes has been organized on a large scale, and there is national co-operation of all the agencies concerned.

British Soldiers and New Roads.

Some seven and a half million dollars' worth of new road construction has been taken in hand by various British cities to provide work for the unemployed. According to a report of the British information service of the Bankers' Trust company, the ministry of transportation contributes one-half of the cost—probably out of funds accumulated for that purpose for many years by the development commission—and lends to the municipalities the other half for five years, repayable in annual installments. Ex-service men, after due registration at a labor exchange, receive preference among applicants.

Unquestioning Admirer.

"Are you an admirer of Jeffersonian simplicity?" "I am," replied Senator Sorghum. "I don't know exactly what it is, but I admire anything that can command so much public approval and political influence."

Calumny in the Calendar.

"Do you regard Friday as an unlucky day?" "Most assuredly any day with such a bad reputation is unlucky, whether it deserves it or not."

Nothing less pointed than a bent pin would cause some men to rise to the occasion.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours. Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment. Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless. Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, do sires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Evans drug store to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

MANY WILD FOWL IN U. S. About sixty of the two hundred species of wild fowl are found in America. There are two families or classes of ducks, the sea ducks or divers and the shore-water ducks or dabblers, says the American Forestry Association. The last named are the most suitable for game farms and preserves in most of the states, and one of them, the Mallard, or "green head," is reared more abundantly than all the others put together. Brightly colored walls and other gay hues in factories and workshops are said to lead to increased production.

CROATIA WOULD NOW BE FREE

Address Delivered in February and Suppressed Has Just Been Printed.

Vienna.—What purports to be an address delivered by the Croats' Party formulated at a meeting in Agria on February 11, 12 and suppressed by the government is printed by the Reichspost of this city. It is virtually a declaration of independence of Croatia.

A significant feature of it is the fact that it is addressed to "His Royal Highness, the Regent of the Kingdom of Serbia as Military Commander in Belgrade." Signed by 48 deputies of the Croatian party, it begins with the statement that they consider it their duty to invalidate in the name of the Croatian nation and state the address which the Central Committee of the National Assembly, with only eight members of the Croatian Diet, presented to the Regent in December, 1918, and also to invalidate the decisions of the Croatian Diet since October of that year.

Declaring that the Croatian Diet in October, 1918, proclaimed the entire independence of Croatia, Slavonia, Dalmatia and the Mur Islands and handed over to the National Assembly the supreme power, the address points out that at the same time it distinctly made clear that they meant only to become members of a union, but by no means to join the centralized state of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. It supports this view by construing the decision of the Peace Conference in response to its appeal for an independent Croatian Republic as meaning Croatia was compelled to become part of the S. H. S. only in an international sense and that the conference did not force upon Croatia the Serbian monarchy.

The monarchy was proclaimed by the Regent, the manifesto continues, "on the basis of the above-mentioned address which was repudiated and invalidated by the Croatian nation in November of last year," so "that the present regime which constitutes an unprecedented reign of terror can only be kept up by force of arms and oppression." Since December of 1920, the manifesto continues, the Croatian nation has been oppressed and suppressed in a manner never before experienced in its history while the introduction of corporal punishment and its daily practice upon the peasants by the gendarmes because of their republican tendencies "is a deadly hurt to the national feeling, dignity and culture of the country."

Relying upon military force, the manifesto charges that the Serbs have deprived the Croats of equal rights in the union in any sphere and has outlawed them in financial, military and constitutional affairs.

Suppression of newspapers printing articles offensive to Belgrade is charged as well as the strict prohibition of a Peasants Party organ. It recites the arbitrary dismemberment of Croatia by a packed commission in a way "not even attested by the Venetians, the Turks, nor the Austrians," in the course of centuries. It recites the arrests and imprisonment of the Croatian deputy Nikola Srdovic because he defied the King and stood by his constituency and says that the Serbian commissioners publicly declare they will bring about the bankruptcy of those municipalities who do not vote as Belgrade directs.

"By far worse wrongs were done by your government to the Croatian-Magyar majority in Bosnia and Herzegovina," continues the document, "as well as to the Croatian majority in the Parska. Two hundred thousand Croats there were treated in a manner that would have been forbidden even were they Magyars. A system of murdering and plundering is being carried on. The embitterment of the whole nation is such that history may hardly afford an analogy to such general discontent."

The manifesto concludes: "After this great war a peasant state can exist in our territory only in the form of a republic and if the present moment is not a suitable one for the construction of a republican constitution in our territory on account of party disputes and weariness, the unbending will and resolution of the Croatian people is that a peasant republic be created without hindrance by force. The conscience of reawakened humanity, the vigilant eye of Europe, the vital interests of our Yugoslav national unity demand categorically that your Royal Highness may forbid any tearing asunder of the Croats and the Serbs by military forces under your command, thus creating an entrenched military camp in Croatia instead of building up a peaceful workshop with new constitutional life in harmony with Serbia and in community with all Yugoslavdom."

The Reichspost declares that this document was promptly suppressed and the only paper printing it forbidden circulation in South Yugoslavia because of a series of articles describing alleged persecutions of the minor peoples by the Belgrade government.

MEMORIAL TREES FOR T. R.
The Roosevelt highway is a fitting memorial, for it should increase the ties that bind the American people together, says the Chicago Tribune. An excellent suggestion has been made by Charles Lathrop Pack, of the American Forestry Association, who asks that Governor Lowden call upon the people of the State to plant memorial trees along the highway in recognition of Roosevelt's devotion to the cause of conservation and to all outdoor life. We hope this will be done. Illinois, once so largely a treeless prairie region, has grown of late years in the knowledge of the beauty of trees. To have the Roosevelt highway lined with memorial trees, will add not merely to its beauty and comfort but to its significance.

NEBULA SHOWS SOME SPEED

Body Flying Through the Heavens at Rate of Two Thousand Kilometers a Second.

The Lowell observatory in Flagstaff, Ariz., has held a stop watch on the fastest moving object ever discovered. The spiral nebula catalogued as No. 554, Dreyer's catalogue, constellation of Cetus, is flying through the heavens at the rate of 2,000 kilometers a second. An airplane going at this speed would circumnavigate the earth at the equator in less than half a minute. The spiral nebulae are the swiftest moving objects in the known universe, but no one has ever before been detected shooting through the heavens at much more than half the speed of 554-Dreyer-Cetus. Most stars move slowly and sedately along at about 100 kilometers a second. What is perhaps rather humiliating to us earth dwellers is the fact that 554-Dreyer-Cetus is moving in the direction away from our own earth and sun.

Of course the speed of light, which is nearly 300,000 kilometers a second, makes the speed of the spiral nebulae seem insignificant. But light does not have to "carry weight," whereas the nebulae, though perhaps an extremely diffuse and tenuous form of matter, are none the less material objects of quite considerable ponderosity. So, until we get later news from the celestial racetracks, we can state that the spiral nebula in Cetus is the speediest thing coming down the "celestial pike."—New York Independent.

SPORT ADORED BY FILIPINOS

Cock Fighting the One Occupation That Appeals to the Heart of the Brown Brothers.

In every one of the larger cities of the Philippines and throughout every one of the thousands of little barrios—from northern Luzon to southern Mindanao—little barrios that fringe the ocean's edge or nestle among the hills, there is but one universal and adored sport, but one game that is pre-eminently popular from the mountain fastnesses of the headhunters to the southern shores of Moroland, and that is cock fighting.

Every Sunday morning—for Sunday is the great day for the sport—at the first crack of dawn along the roads and trails that lead into the little settlements and on the streets that twist through the smelly and ramshackle barrios, will be met numbers of Filipinos walking with a quick, jaunty step, anticipation written plainly upon their brown faces and an unusual light in their dark eyes. Each carries his favorite game cock under his arm, and all are converging upon the cockpit.

"Lost" Lincoln a Mystery.

An oil painting of Abraham Lincoln, 25 by 35 inches in size, rescued several years ago from a pile of supposedly worthless furniture taken from the old Red Lion inn in Philadelphia, today forms a mystery over which there is much discussion by artists. After its rescue the picture was hung in a Philadelphia residence where a painter, Baruch M. Feldman, happened upon it and purchased it. He began the work of reclaiming it, and after the dirt had been removed the portrait stood out, clear and well defined in all its features.

Artists who have seen the picture are agreed that the character of the portrait is such that the suggestion that it might have been painted from a photograph is rendered absurd. Who painted the "lost" Lincoln is a mystery, and there is no mark or sign to give those studying it a clue that might lead to its identification.

Showa Kindergarten's Value.

The importance of the kindergarten as an Americanizing influence was urged by Maj. Bradley Martin, president of the National Kindergarten association, at the recent regional citizens' conference in New York.

"The kindergarten," said Major Martin, "is obviously the ideal means of Americanizing the family through the child; as the child through singing patriotic songs and playing games with other children and receiving moral and ethical instruction, not only learns our language, but also adopts our point of view and becomes a patriotic citizen; and through mothers' meetings and home visits the family is assisted by the kindergarten teacher in the difficult task of adapting itself to the economic and social conditions that it finds in this country."

May Discover Earth's Secret.

On the shores of Lough Neagh, in Ireland, mysterious explosions, generally occurring in warm and fine weather, have long been known as "water guns."

The most plausible theory to account for these strange noises is that they are caused by movements of rocks—settling, perhaps—deep down in the earth's crust. It has been suggested that they might be profitably studied with the help of the newly invented listening devices, by which even the smallest sounds transmitted through the ground can be heard.—Philadelphia Ledger

Hope for Us Yet.

"What do you regard as the bulwark of the nation?"

"The common sense of the plain people."

"When does it assert itself?"

"That's hard to say, but a statistician tells me 60 per cent of our population has never learned to 'shimtar.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald

Milady's Boudoir

Good teeth depend largely on healthy gums. All gums should be firm and pink in color. When they are soft, red, swollen or purple and bleed easily, they need attention. The gums can never be healthy unless they are kept in a thoroughly clean condition.

Select your toothbrush with care and be generous in its use. When the gums are healthy use a brush with very stiff bristles. Use it in a downward movement on the upper teeth and brush the lower teeth with an upward motion. When the gums are weak the bristles of the brush should not be strong enough to make the slightest irritation. No brush should be used longer than a month. It is well to have two brushes at the same time, using them alternately. Dry the brushes in the sunlight if possible and wash them once a week with soap and water, drying in a bright light.

The tooth powder or paste used should be of the simplest kind. Bicarbonate of soda is invaluable as a tooth cleanser. It counteracts acidity and should be used once a day at least. Apply as you do tooth powder.

Occasionally cleansing the teeth with salt is highly recommended by dentists. It will whiten and strengthen them, but it should not be used often, however, once a week. Rinse the mouth well afterward. At the first sign of tartar on the teeth visit a dentist and have it removed. The presence of tartar has an injurious effect on the gums, as well as on the enamel of the teeth.

Where there is the slightest tendency to receding gums, precipitated chalk should be more pretentious building. It will place some of the chalk on the fingers and rub it over the tops of the teeth. It will adhere forming a protection to the enamel that will prevent any injurious action by the saliva of the mouth.

Our Boys and Girls

A set of tools is one of the best safeguards for a boy. They will occupy his spare time, give him something to do that he will enjoy and will teach him many lessons. He can begin by building a bird house or a bait box to use when he goes fishing.

As his stock of tools and his knowledge of their use increases, he will advance to more pretentious building. It will not be long before he will be offering to do some of the repairing about the house and he should by all means, be encouraged in this. If rebuffed at his first offer to do the repairing, he will not likely offer again.

Some are inclined to think that any sort of tool is good enough for a boy, but that is not true. Neither is it advisable, nor economical, to buy the small cheap tool chests with their diminutive and poorly made contents. It is much the better way to buy one good tool at a time, getting these of the quality a carpenter would use, then to teach the boy how to use and care for the tool before getting him the next one.

FATE OF BRITISH HANGS ON THE IRISH QUESTION.
The Irish question is now the crux of the duration of the British Empire and its prestige in the world.

This is the declaration of Dr. James J. Walsh, M.D., Ph.D., in an article in the April number of The Mentor Magazine. Writing on "What Ireland Is—And Wants." Dr. Walsh says that the Irish are the oldest pure nationality in Europe. He traces the struggle for freedom from its conception to today.

"If America argued as we do, she would conquer and annex Canada, as she could easily do," Walsh quotes the famous English author, Jerome K. Jerome, as saying. Jerome is one of the many Englishmen who are in favor of independence, Walsh says.

WORTH MORE THAN LAND.
In swampy areas a single crop of wild ducks is frequently worth more than the value of the land, says the American Forestry Association. Many ponds and small swampy tracts from New England to the Pacific Coast can be made to produce wild ducks abundantly and profitably and a number of species, including the Mallard, Wood-duck, Teal and Southern Black Duck, when properly cared for breed in the Gulf States.

A train of thought isn't going to get you anywhere unless you get up steam enough to carry it through.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.
Auditorium—"So Long Letty" (photo picture).
Grand—"The Sagebrusher."
Alhambra—May Allison in "Are All Men Alike?"
Gaiety—Lila Lee in "The Cruise of the Make-Believes."

EMERSON HOUGH'S STORY GLORIFIED ON THE SCREEN.
Stamped with the enthusiastic approval of Emerson Hough, "The Sagebrusher," the vivid picturization of the first of the famous novelist's works to be transferred to the screen, is unquestionably the greatest achievement of that master producer, Benjamin B. Hampton.

"The Sagebrusher," a W. W. Hodkin son special release, is at the Grand Theater again today and tomorrow. It depicts the soul-stirring events in the life of Mary Warren, a beautiful, refined girl, who, having lost her sight, is forced by circumstances to wed Sim Gage, a shiftless Montana rancher. The blind girl knows from his speech that Mary's first glimpse of him will lose her to him, Sim consents to the operation, though he loves her.

An outbreak led by Frederick Waldhorn, who recognizes Mary as the girl whose estate he has appropriated, inflamed by the knowledge of her plunges Mary into peril, and ends after freely spoken views on life and the oboperation on her eyes in the blowing up of the power company's dam, which floods the valley. Sim gives his life in rescuing Mary from the flood. Dr. Barnes battles with Waldhorn on the roof of his office, which is whirling down the canyon on the crest of the flood. He throws Waldhorn into the water and is rescued. The operation proves successful, and after a time Mary returns the doctor's love.

BOHEMIAN LIFE IN NEW METRO PICTURE.
May Allison, in her latest Metro production, "Are All Men Alike?" will be the feature attraction at the Alhambra theater, beginning today. "Are All Men Alike?" presents Miss Allison in the role of a rich, headstrong young girl who desires to live her own life in her own way, among the Bohemian circles of New York's night life, and as such, she is uncouth, but visualizes him, a big, handsome fellow.

To Sim the marriage is a grim irony of fate, and from a hidden nobility within the crude exterior, he respects his wife and refuses to kiss her, leaving that to Dr. Barnes, a young handsome practitioner at the power company's plant, who believes that he can restore Mary's eyesight. Knowing that Mary's first glimpse of him will lose her to him, Sim consents to the operation, though he loves her.

There she blunders into all manner of adventures with all manner of men, and it is only by dint of good fortune and the strong arm of a good man at the right time, that prevents her from paying the price that so many girls in a moment of reckless folly are called upon to pay. As it is "Teddy" Hayden runs the gamut of experiences with men, all of whom are captivated by her beauty and her apparent disregard for all convention.

Inflamed by the knowledge of her plunges Mary into peril, and ends after freely spoken views on life and the obvious freedom of her way of living, they pursue her ardently; but their course is abruptly and rudely checked by the arm of a man who does not share with "Teddy" Hayden her extreme views of woman's freedom.

In the role of "Teddy" Hayden Miss Allison is said to shine to peculiar advantage, and she is capably supported by a cast of exceptional merit, including Wallace MacDonald, John Elliot and Ruth Stonehouse. The picture is directed by Philip E. Rosen and photographed by Ben Ball.

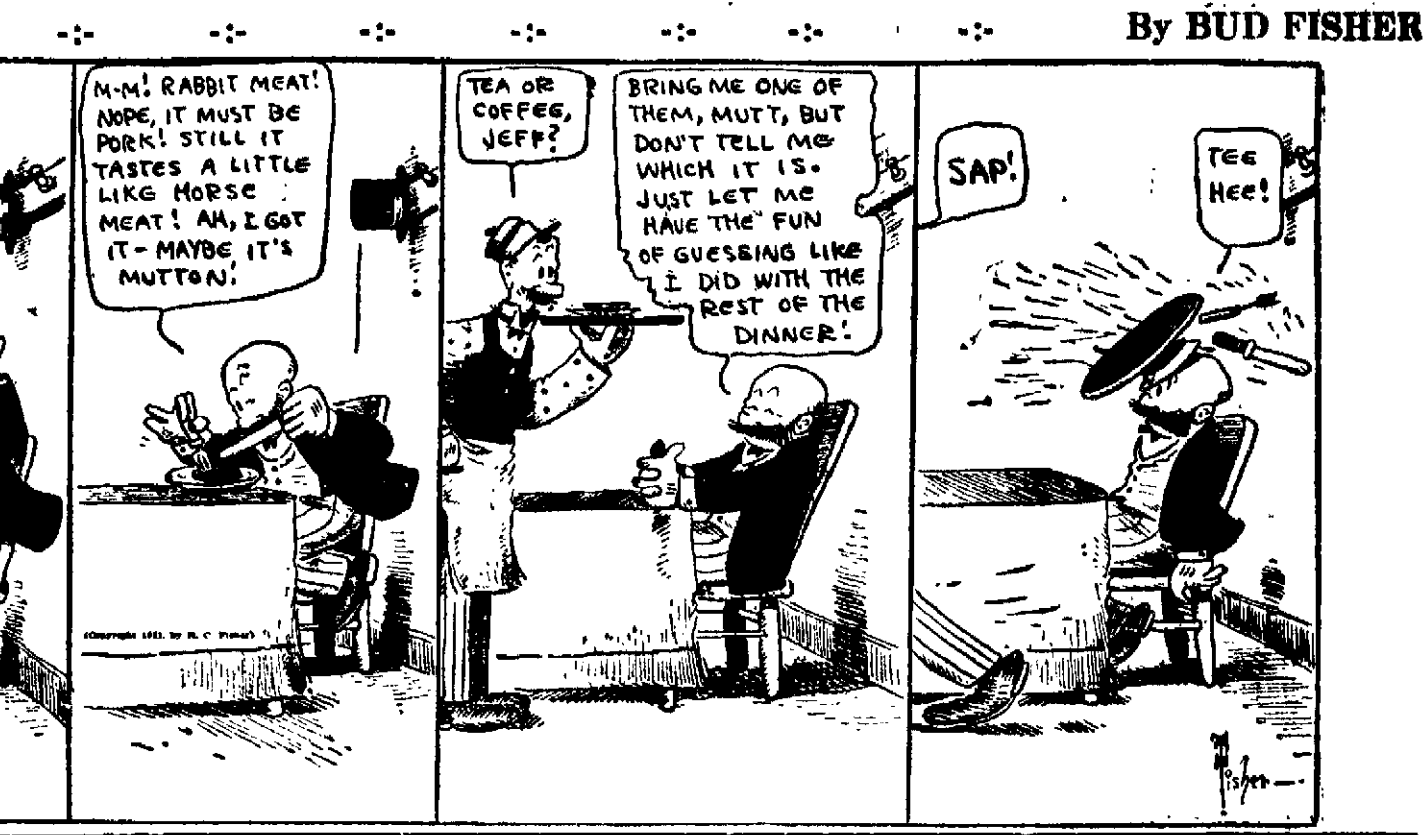

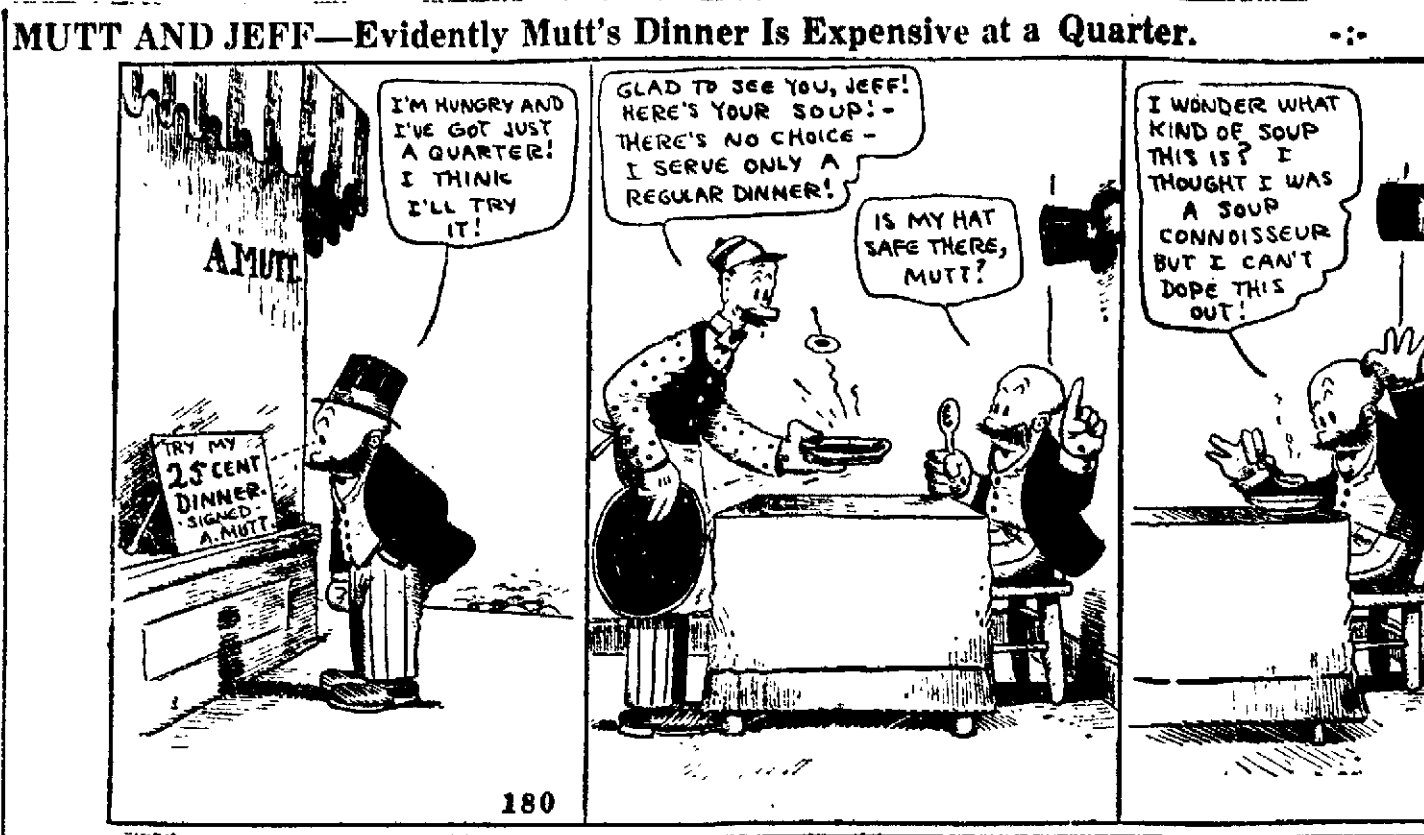

"SO LONG LETTY" IS A PHOTO-PLAY PRIZE.
How sardines on one hand and Paris gowns on the other may break up two perfectly fine homes, is made plain in "So Long Letty," the Al Christie screen production which is released by Robertson-Cole as a super-special and opens at the Auditorium theater Friday for a run of two days.

One newlywed husband is fed sardines when he longs for a real home cooked meal. Another is fed home cooked meals when he is strong for the "high spots" and the Paris gowns. It's a queer combination and would have ended in the divorce courts had not the wives of the two slipped over a real lesson on the dissatisfied husbands.

The new Robertson-Cole release has just the proper cast to put "So Long Letty" over in a manner to delight picture lovers. Included are T. Roy Darnes, Grace Darmond, Colleen Moore, and Walter Hiers. Also, there are a number of bathing lassies who are very, very, shapely.

Much Worse.
"Have you a little fairy in your home?"
"No, but I have a little miss in my mine."—The Drexler.

NO TROUBLE TO MOVE BIG BUILDING
Pittsburgh, April 14—Engineers, directing the work of moving an eight-story steel and brick business building in the downtown section, expected to have the structure resting 40 feet from its former location late today. The work of moving the building started Tuesday and before the close of the day the 4,000-ton structure, including the basement and wide walks, rested eight feet north of the original foundation. All service was maintained in the structure during moving process. No furniture or stock was removed from the building and employees remained at their desks. The charge in the location of the structure was made necessary by the widening of Second avenue, which is to form a section of a new highway, the Boulevard of the Allies.

SEVEN NEW DEACONS AT BAPTIST CHURCH
Seven new deacons were added to the First Baptist church board Wednesday night. The present board consists of senior deacon, J. R. Davies, E. N. Frame, E. B. Hughes, E. T. Ruge, A. A. Dodd, J. F. Moore, S. A. Mears, Charles Ezra Davis. The new names added last night were O. B. Young, Benjamin J. Hendricks, Spencer Oxley, E. Cary Norris, Emerson T. Crabtree, C. W. Swygert, M. A. Lane. This makes a board of 15 men.
The necessity for the increased board is the plan of organization now being worked out in the church. The city center, east side where the Second Baptist church is located, has been divided into forty-five divisions. These will be grouped into nine or twelve major divisions with a deacon over each major division. Under him will be four workers in each division. The first move will be to determine the Baptist "constituency" of this city. It will mean a religious census of the entire city.

Men scoffed at him, women turned away when he passed, but Sim had something the scoffers lacked—HEART. Then into the life of this victim of gibes and sneers came a young, beautiful girl, though it was not of Sim's choosing. W. W. Gard, formerly cashier of the Park National Bank, Newark, now of Cleveland sends us a quantity of Safety Blades to sharpen and a dozen from a Cleveland business associate. In his letter he states that he gets genuine satisfactory service from every blade we sharpen and this is why he wants Teuscher to do it. This is only one of the many compliments we receive and demonstrates that our work speaks for itself. If you use a safety and the blades are dull give him a call. We'll make them cut better than the new ones or you don't pay. Nuf said—stop in.

NOTHING WRONG EXCEPT "RUN DOWN"

Heart All Right—Lungs All Right But Blood Weak

NO ENERGY OR ENTHUSIASM

That's When You Need Pepto-Mangan—The Red Blood Builder

When you feel weak and almost sick, see a doctor and find out what is wrong. It may be a serious illness. But in many cases the doctor finds nothing really wrong except a general run-down condition due to the need of stronger, richer blood.

For over thirty years physicians have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan to restore weakened blood to its normal healthy state.

Pepto-Mangan imparts to the blood the elements it needs to build up vigorous men and women. Children whose blood is impoverished become listless and pale and fail to romp. Pepto-Mangan creates a supply of nourishing red blood that makes the cheeks glow the eyes sparkle and brings back the energy for play or studies.

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form, whichever proves most convenient. Both forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's." Ask your druggist for "Gude's" and look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

Rheumatism Left Him As If By Magic!

Had Suffered Over 50 Years!

Now 83 Years, Yet a Big Surprise To Friends

Regains Strength Goes Out Fishing Back to Business Laughs at "URIC ACID" How the "Inner Mysteries" Reveals Startling Facts Overlooked By Doctors and Scientists For Centuries

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army over fifty years ago," writes J. L. Ashelman. "I have tried many others. I spent money freely for so-called 'cures,' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now, as if by magic, I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change."

HOW IT HAPPENED. Mr. Ashelman is only one of thousands who suffered for years owing to the general belief in the old false theory that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism. This erroneous belief induced him and legions of unfortunate men and women to take wrong treatments. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as to try and get rid of your rheumatism and like complaints by taking treatments supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. Many physicians and scientists now know that Uric Acid never did never can and never will cause rheumatism; that it is a natural and necessary constituent of the blood; that it is found in every new-born babe; and that without it we could not live. These statements may seem strange to some folks who have all along been led to believe in the old "Uric Acid" humbug. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out this truth. He learned how to get rid of the cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," a remarkable book now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this particular trouble.

NOTE: If any readers of the Advocate wishes the book that reveals these facts regarding the true cause and cure of rheumatism, facts that were overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 750-K street, Hallowell, Maine, and it will be sent by return mail without any charge whatever. Cut out this notice, lest you forget, if not a sufferer yourself, hand this good news to some afflicted friend.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, many are leading ladies just because of their attractive looks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture by putting a teaspoonful of canthrox (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use, the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is, its luster and softness are delightful.

The recital given Wednesday evening in Recital hall by Miss Fannie J. Parry, head of the piano department of Denison Conservatory, and Mrs. Kirtley Mather, an advanced pupil, filled the hall with an assemblage of music lovers and the performance was pronounced by the musical authority as the best recital ever given there. It was an exacting program and the players were in excellent form revealing musical feeling and technical brilliancy which reached their climax in the "Glorious music." Opening with the Bach "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor" arranged by Robert Schumann, they played the "Sonata in D Major," a Chopin "Rondo," Schubert's "Impromptu (Lento)," Saint-Saens' "Minuet and Gavotte," and "Schergo," closing with Chopin's "Espino."

A COMMERCIALIZED MINISTRY IS MENACE

Boston, April 14.—Bishop William Lawrence in his annual address to the Massachusetts diocesan convention of the Episcopal church yesterday deplored the number of clergymen who were mixing business with holy orders.

Highest Food Authorities tell why Karo is one of the greatest of all energy-producing foods

Every father and mother should read this message

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cans containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it, and be assured of full weight cans and highest quality.

BLUE Karo

The standard table syrup. Also for cooking, baking and candy making. Light brown color, delicious flavor—a heavy-bodied syrup.

RED Karo

The Ideal Syrup for every use—for cooking, baking, candy making and preserving. Because of its honey-like appearance many prefer it as a spread for cakes, biscuits, breads.

GREEN Karo

Flavored with highest grade real maple sugar. Very moderate in price—absolutely pure. The makers of Karo are the world's largest users of the highest grade maple sugar—over a thousand tons used annually.

There is much more than the delicious taste of Karo to account for the fact that more than two hundred million cans were sold last year.

It's simple enough, when you know that Karo is perhaps the richest of all foods in Dextrose. And Dextrose is one of the most important food elements there is.

You could not live long without Dextrose

Most of the foods you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables, and all forms of sugar—have to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use them as energy foods.

So Karo may almost be said to be a pre-digested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical and food authorities. Send for the free booklet mentioned below and read the facts.

Karo is perfectly delicious—whether for cooking, baking, candy-making, or preserving. It's the best part of the breakfast for millions of people—on pancakes, hot biscuits, or as a spread on toast.

FREE A booklet every parent should read. Tells all about the wonderful food value of Karo; explains the meaning of Dextrose, and why children thrive on it. Sent free with the beautifully illustrated Corn Products Cook Book of 64 pages. Write Corn Products Refining Co., Argo, Ill.

CLEVELAND LOSES TO ST. LOUIS 4 TO 2.

St. Louis, April 14.—St. Louis got away to a flying start in the 1921 American League pennant race today by defeating Cleveland 4 to 2.

Governor Hyde pitched the first ball to Louis F. Aloe, chairman of the board of aldermen. Mayor Kiel umpired the toss, calling it a ball.

Two wild throws in the third gave the Browns their first run and four bunched hits in the fifth accounted for the other three.

Smith's home run, followed by three singles, gave Cleveland its two tallies.

IT RAINED BUT NOT ENOUGH TO COUNT

Wichita, Kan., April 14.—Fran Isbell, manager of the Wichita baseball club, lost $2,000 by a slight margin of an hour yesterday. Under his rain insurance policy for the opening game, Isbell was protected up to $2,000 on four hours time, between noon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Under the terms of the policy 10 hundredths of an inch of rain had to fall within the specified time. It failed to do so by four hundredths of an inch.

CINCINNATI TAKES GAME BY 5 TO 2.

Cincinnati, April 14.—Cincinnati scored Pittsburgh 5 to 2 before the largest crowd that ever attended an opening game in Cincinnati. The Reds scored four runs in the eighth inning by bunting hits. Pittsburgh started a batting rally in the ninth after two were on base, but was saved by a hit hard throughout, but was saved by his support, when runners were on base.

LAST GAMES IN INTER-CITY LEAGUE

Tonight's games in basketball for the city inter-league championship closes the active basketball season which has been the most successful for years in the point of large interest.

Halseys are slightly the favorite in the contest with East Main M. E. team owing to the fact that the Industrial champs went through the season without defeat while the latter suffered one loss.

It appears to be a toss-up between Neal Avenue and the American Bottle squad. This game will be played first on the program starting at 7:30 p. m. Season tickets are out of date for tonight's post-season championships.

GNAWS OFF HIS LEG.

Many woodchucks are caught in steel traps, but the animal often escapes by gnawing off its own leg as near the jaws of the trap as possible says the American Forestry Magazine. Sometimes a woodchuck will pull the trap down a burrow as far as he can do so, and seal himself in it then becomes quite a task to unearth him and pull him out, for he hangs on like an armadillo.

DANCING FEATURED BROADWAY BREVITIES

"Broadway Brevities" made up of numerous vaudeville acts, headed by Bert Williams, colored comedian who attained his fame through his success with the Ziegfeld Follies, pleased a near capacity house at the Auditorium last night.

Williams as of yore got many hands and more laughs with his drawing comedy, and conferred a favor when he sang his "When the Moonshine" song, which has become popular through the talking machine records made by him.

The outstanding point of merit in the production was the dancing. Ella Sharon, who with Bert Williams, are the only survivors of the New York production, is one of the most attractive toe dancers to visit Newark. She is usually clever, and it was regretted that she had only two appearances.

Frank Bernard of the team of Bird and Bernard, which gave several specialties, is the original "bonless" specimen. He gave some splendid dance numbers, the dances at times becoming the work of a contortionist. Another clever dancer was Maurice Diamond.

Putting the fun across in support of Williams, was George McKay and an "unknown." The latter would prove an up to the minute understudy for Eddie Cantor, who was originally a part of the "Brevities." His impersonations were good.

Many of the lines are a bit too suggestive at times and the scenery is in need of a good scrubbing.

Mildred Richardson had the only real voice in the company, and it was heard to particular advantage in her opera number for partner Bob Nelson, made his biggest hit in a specialty "Songs and Smiles" with Frank Keyes at the piano.

A big chorus of putridulous girls was seen in some attractive costumes. The show is made up of twenty-one scenes and will play a three days engagement in Columbus for the remainder of the week.

Proverbs 22:1.

ACTION INSULT TO COURT.

Governor Davis, in his Mad Mullah assault on the constitution in forcing through his ripper bill as an emergency, has put before the supreme court one of the most momentous decisions in the history of that tribunal. There is no gainsaying the fact that the governor has acted as if he knew the court, disregarding its former decisions, would bend to his political will and decide that the ripper bill is an emergency.

The action of the governor is in reality a reflection upon the integrity of the members of the supreme court, in the light of the court's decisions.

There can be one way to remove that suspicion and that for the court to smash this autocratic disregard of constitution and open the way for the review of the ripper by the people.

That is why the supreme court of Ohio will do, lawyers and laymen are certain.

"In passing this as an emergency we are either reflecting upon the intelligence of presuming upon the partisanship of the supreme court," declared Senator Burke of Lorain county, one of the three Republicans with courage enough to refuse to wear the Davis yoke.

Senator Burke took the emergency declaration in the bill and showed plainly that it failed to show a single emergency feature.

"They could not show one for there is nothing that affects the immediate health or safety of the state" as the constitution declares is necessary to deny the people the right of referendum," was the declaration of the Republican Senator.

POLITICS NOT SERVICE.

The Davis reorganization ripper is wrong in principle, because it throws every activity of the state government, including health, penal and charitable, into the mire and maelstrom of partisan politics.

There are those whose memory reaches back to the days when politics was the ruling passion of those in charge of the state wards and the public health. The bitter experience of those resulted in the long and intense fight that was made in the interests of good government and good government won.

Now the man from Cleveland, with his hand of henchmen, seeks to gather unto himself the might of a Caesar, and to do it in defiance of the constitution and over and above the right of the people to pass upon the acts of his legitimate jack-in-the-box.

Give this power to Harry L. Davis and the victories of twenty years will go for naught. Give this power to Harry Davis and Ohio will become the most reactionary state in the Union and the envy and the idol of the corrupt political bosses everywhere. Give this power to Harry L. Davis, city hall and ward politician from Cleveland, and all Ohio will rue the day and pay a penalty too great to reckon in dollars and cents.

MAKING DAVIS A CAZAR.

Commenting on the reorganization ripper bill, fathered by Governor Davis, James W. Faulkner, dean of Ohio political writers and observers, writes in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"The general result will give the governor the greatest amount of power possessed by any chief executive in Ohio since the elder days when General Arthur St. Clair ruled with a rod of iron as Governor of the North-west Territory. That legacy of modern times, James M. Cox, in comparison with his successor, resembles a man in Wall street peddling peanuts stacked up against J. Plepion Morgan."

DEVELOPING THE SURROUNDING COUNTRY.

An illustration of what can be done to develop surrounding country has been given by the Fort Scott, Kan., Chamber of Commerce. In 1915 the territory adjacent to that city was given over almost altogether to grain farming.

A plan was laid out in which dairy farming, hard surface roads, and motor truck transportation, were agreed upon as three points of their business progress campaign. Milk shipping stations were established, a condensed milk factory was started, high class dairy cows and registered bulls were distributed. The condenser alone now pays the farmers $500,000 annually for milk, not to speak of all the returns from other sources. A system of 225 miles of hard roads is being built. Where formerly farmers and business men were discouraged and pessimistic, they are now all hopeful.

A definite plan for utilization of resources in Licking county could accomplish quickly notable results.

"BOYS, GET THE MONEY."

"The industrious 'gold diggers' who moved in last January from Cleveland aren't letting anything get away, their actions resembling those of the Prussians upon entering Belgium. Old clothes, furniture, canary birds, wheel chairs, used autos—anything. One of the chunks carved out to be carried back to dear old Cuyahoga was the leasing of an automobile building's upper lofts this week for the purpose of housing the state industrial commission. The option was obtained by a Cleveland political leader who practices law as a 'cover up' and the reputed profits will justify taking his family to Cedar Point for a few days this summer."—J. W. Faulkner in the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The people who will weep because they got left in the coming business boom, will be the ones who are now convinced that business will never be any better.

The kids enjoy sending a ball through the kitchen windows, but how much more fun it would be if the lights were made of expensive art glass.

The boys of Newark are not disturbed by the scholastic superiority of the girls, so long as the latter can't throw a baseball straight.

It is denied that the politicians are not working hard, as they are hustling like everything to find jobs for their heels.

Also great injustice is done in claiming that the government clerks are idle, as they are busy passing the buck.

After Mr. Harding solemnly promised to have a simple inauguration, yet he went and wore a plug hat.

What if a body might have all the pleasures in the world for asking? Who would so unman himself as, by accepting them, to desert his soul, and become a perpetual slave to his senses?—Seneca.

Strange.
It's strange to me and I suppose it's just as strange to you. That ladies buy so many clothes. And wear so very few.

Less Still Unconvinced.
Aunt Caline says:—Tother day Less Brane got a terrible insulting letter. It called him all the offie things they is to call an' then some an' Less were 'rury much upset about it. Yesterday he brang the letter in here an' insisted on I an' Zeke a-reading it, which we done. Now Less says:—I still think that knew feller up by Hi Price's rote it, says he, "I showed it to him an' I ast him if it didn't look like his hand writing," he says, "an' he didn't hardly look at it but he said it didn't. 'Well,' says I, 'don't it resemble your writing none?' I says, 'You'd be sure it hadn't your ritings,' says I. 'Well I sure would,' he says, 'fer I can't rit,' says he." Less says.

A Blue Trip Ship.
We passed a miserable night, a few nights ago, and all on account of an anagram given to us for solution by Mrs. Scripps. After she had gone away and for half hour before we retired, we worked on it. No solution. We went to bed and to sleep, but all night we worked miserably on that darned anagram. We awoke at dawn, exhausted, but our subconsciousness had done the trick. We crawled from our bed of pain and put down the solution on a piece of paper. Never work on a puzzle just before going to bed. The word was "chesty." It contains another word—one in which all six of the letters in "chesty" are used—no more, no less, no others. What is the word? Just to give you more work, the meaningless word "chasty" also contains another word. Dope 'em out—but do it in the day time if you long for a night's repose.—Ted Robinson in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mixing His Dates.
I don't know that I shall get by with this bit of higher criticism of the S. R. P. (Says C. W.) but don't you think that Will Irwin is a little off in his synchrony when, in "Columbine Time" he contemporizes "Over the Garden Wall," "Nancy Lee," "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and the saxophone? I may be wrong, but it seems to me that the general use of the Saxophone as an instrument of torture was considerably subsequent to "Over the Garden Wall." I am inclined to think that it was some other instrument that was emitting those mournful wails—probably a slide trombone.

No it might have been a saxophone. The instrument was invented before 1850 and its use was pretty general twenty or thirty years later.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Well, as far as our knowledge goes

ENTERTAIN INVISIBLE GUEST AT HOME.

"Entertain a party of invisible guests in your home this winter." E. M. Black, working for the Hoover European Relief Council, makes this suggestion.

"Invisible guests" are the starving European children whose lives you save at an expenditure of $10 each by turning the money over to the relief fund to be administered under the direction of Herbert Hoover, it is explained.

Thousands of Ohioans, including many residents of this county, are already playing host to these little unfortunates.

Any children who are not provided for in the next few weeks will be beyond reach of American charity by spring—dead of starvation and disease. They can be saved from this fate, say authoritative reports from Europe to Mr. Hoover's office, only by uninterrupted continuance of the American feeding stations and medical service through this winter.

Two hundred thousand "invisible guests" were present at the $1,000-per-plate dinner of stew and cocoa which Mr. Hoover gave for a large group of wealthy men in New York in December. Receipts at this affair all went into the fund.

President and Mrs. Harding are entertaining 250 "invisible guests."

"QUEER BIRD" WHO WATCHES BIRDS.

New York April 14.—An elderly man in tattered cap and suit sat motionless under a tree at 257th street and Broadway when a mounted patrolman informed that a queer stranger had been sleeping there three days, approached.

"I'm interested in birds," the old man said, "particularly in the domestic affairs of the pair of robins above us. I have enjoyed their acquaintance three seasons."

He launched then into the story of a row that was being waged in the nest, the result he said of the laying there of a cuckoo's egg. "The male bird wanted to throw it out but the female chirped 'no' and has hatched it. I am waiting to see what will happen next. Queer things, birds."

"Yes," said the policeman, "and the folks here about think you're somewhat of a queer bird."

"How very extraordinary," replied he of the tattered clothing, "here's my card."

The patrolman read: Professor Malcolm Ogilvie, New York Ornithological society—and rode on.

PORTO RICO GETS TAXES ON CIGARETTES.

Washington, April 14.—Porto Rico is entitled to a drawback of taxes paid on cigarettes, exported by way of the United States, under a ruling of Attorney General Daugherty made public today. The opinion was given at the request of Secretary Mellon.

one of these things may be just as synchronous as another, but we don't believe ladies who wore bustles ever said "eat up the road," "it was great," or "fall for it."

Wuff!
In shame the poor old rooster hid, And said in his despair: "I have a comb, yet nature did Not give me any hair!" —Luc DeLuque.

Did You Know
That the Campagna di Roma is about 30 miles long and from 27 to 40 miles wide? It is an undulating plain surrounding Rome. It never rises 200 feet above the sea, is almost entirely volcanic, and its lakes are formed by craters of extinct volcanoes. The number of inhabitants is very small and in summer they are driven by its pestilential air to Rome and other neighboring places.

Missed His Goal.
He couldn't spare the time that day To give the train the right of way; He's not so hurried now, for he Has plenty of eternity. —Newark Advocate.

If he was good, eternity Is one fine place for him to be. Where railroad trains do not, I say, Obstruct or have the right of way.

In fact they do not use such things Because the poor all have wings, And travel there, as you can see, Is absolutely safe and free.

Therefore my friends you should get help To this great truth and watch your step. So when you leave this world of care You'll have no trouble reaching there. —I. G.

BORROWED HUSBANDS
By MILDRED K. BARBOUR

LXXXII.—The Inevitable Crisis.

Dr. Langwell was looking into the fire and did not notice that Nancy had picked up the handkerchief. She was able, therefore, to study it surreptitiously.

It was small—a glove handkerchief of exquisitely fine fabric—and to Nancy's discerning eye, the embroidered initials were the handiwork of clever French fingers.

A handkerchief is an indicative of character as handwriting, and Nancy put the owner of this lost trifle down as a woman of the fastidious, could love him so devotedly. Was it that compelling magnetism which she herself felt occasionally and which made her almost afraid to be alone with him?

Without turning his head or glancing at Nancy, he said amiably: "What? Do you know the test?"

"How did you know that I was looking at you?" asked Nancy in surprise.

"Do you think I can ever be insensible to the eyes of a beautiful woman? I could feel your glance in every fiber of my being."

Nancy rose without a suggestion of haste. She felt that retreat was the better part of valor at this moment.

"Going so soon?" inquired the doctor. "I thought you might wait up until Edith returned and we could have a bite of supper."

"Thanks, but I'm not hungry—only absurdly and unromantically sleepy."

She feigned a little yawn and moved languidly from the fire.

His fingers closed suddenly on her wrist, drawing her gently, but none the less firmly, back to her chair.

"You're a pretty thing when you're sleepy," he said softly. "Your eyes are very dark and mysterious and your mouth is as soft as a child's."

Nancy essayed a little laugh and tried to extricate herself unostentatiously, from his grasp, but he too laughed a low, slurring chuckle, and bending down, kissed her full upon the lips.

With a little gasp, Nancy wrenched herself free, and turning on him furiously, struck with all the force of her clenched hand squarely on his smiling complacent mouth.

LET'S QUIT WAITING.

(By E. D. Leach.)

Ever since the slump in business last May prophets of better business have been telling us when we might expect the return of prosperity. Since election there has been evidences of not a little improved better-business propaganda. And yet, in spite of all these efforts and good signs, prosperity has refused to appear on scheduled time.

As none of the writers, so far as I have observed, have given sufficient importance to the fundamental causes for the present depression, and, as these causes are so obvious and their removal so necessary to improved business conditions, I feel it wise that we give them consideration for our further guidance.

During the period from the summer of 1914 until the summer of 1920 this country greatly increased its capacity for production. The expansion was first stimulated by war orders and later because of the theory that Europe was short of almost everything and would take our surplus for many years to come. This theory was well founded and might have worked out but for one thing. That was politics.

From responsible sources we know that President Wilson had worked out a carefully planned reconstruction program for the war stricken nations in which the United States was to play a major part, especially in the financing of trade and industrial rehabilitation. This plan, we have every reason to believe, had the approval of the various governments interested and the leading financial interests of those countries. The League of Nations was the agency through which this program was to function and it was presupposed that the United States would be a member of the league. The defeat of the peace treaty by the senate made it impossible to carry out the proposed plan and no other has been put into operation. As a result, we find the money of the European nations held by the victors, with less today than during the war. Credit conditions are demoralized, rates of exchange have gone up until they prohibit business, industries have not started, the people are idle, starving and discontented. In short, Europe cannot buy our products no matter how badly she needs them. Instead we were asked, during the past winter, to donate $33,000,000 of our food surplus to prevent starvation. This probably would have been largely, if not wholly, avoided if the proper assistance had been rendered in getting European industry on its feet.

Then, too, the European situation has been further complicated by American politics. In order to elect a Republican administration last year, the Republicans made an attack upon every policy that President Wilson had been connected with in any way. If there was anything which Candidate Harding made clear it was that if elected he would reverse all of the Wilson policies. To our former allies this meant abandonment of the reconstruction program, then too long delayed; the withdrawal of the support necessary in collecting the indemnities assessed against Germany, in stabilized credits and starting industry. To Germany it meant a separate peace with the United States and the possibilities of a German administration in Washington. With America out of the way, Germany immediately started out to win from the allies by bluff and strategy what she had lost in the field and at the peace conference. The indemnities, as a consequence, are not being paid. This further depresses the credit of the allied nations and stagnates industry.

Due to these conditions Europe, with the exception of Germany, was worse off during the third winter after the armistice than at any time before. In the United States we have great quantities of wheat, corn, wool, cotton, pork, beef and other staples produced at high costs which are almost worthless. Our railroads are facing financial disaster because of the falling off of business, our ships are rotting in port, our partially utilized and our working men have wage scales but no jobs. We have lost our foreign trade, our prosperity and the greatest opportunity any nation ever faced. We have the consolation, however, of having elected a Republican administration.

I am not a pessimist. I do not believe we are going to have a panic. Certainly not if congress does not start to tamper with the Federal Reserve Act. But, on the other hand, we are not going to have an easy return of prosperity. Not until the international credit situation is stabilized and the markets of the world are opened for American products. How long it will

U. S. SAILORS AID RUSSIANS

Refugees From Crimea
Were Infected With Typhus and Fleeing From Bolshevists.

Ragusa, Dalmatia, April 12.—The generosity shown by the officers and men of the American warships in the Adriatic commanded by Rear Admiral Andrews will never be forgotten by more than 20,000 of the Russian refugees from the Crimea, who, infected with typhus, fled from the Bolshevists and found refuge here on the Dalmatian coast.

The American sailors' tenderness in keeping the children clothed and fed and the outpouring of pocket books and stores on the ships for relief is the chief topic of conversation in the Russian colony and the refugees remaining in this district.

"They have saved us. They are the brightest remembrances of our unhappy existence," is the most common sentiment expressed about here.

The bluejackets of the flagship Olympia, and the destroyers Alden, Brooks, Gilmer, Reullen, James and the Sturtevant have fed 5,000 persons daily and have even taken clothing from their own backs to give to the refugees.

When the refugees landed at Cattaro Bay and other places and it was found that no preparation had been made for their arrival, the sailors worked hard to make dwelling places for them. They cleaned the old barracks, and hangars and sometimes made up gangs of Russians who assisted in the general cleaning up.

Upon the outbreak of typhus later the sailors brought into use improvised disinfecting plants, steaming apparatus and baths, and eliminated the dirt and vermin which the Russians had accumulated in their clothing through the winter.

With real American generosity, Admiral Andrews' men when they saw the destitute children, hungry and ill-clad mothers, would take them to the local stores and, from their own pockets, outfit them from head to foot.

The Russian women showed the most grateful appreciation of the sailors' work, although they were powerless to repay them. Captain Wyman of the Olympia received a long note from the Russian women extolling the sailors' generosity, declaring that the American boys had brought hope to the hopeless; women and children who had been driven out of their country. Colonel W. B. Jackson, the head of the American Red Cross mission here told The Associated Press that the United States navy did fine work in nipping the epidemic of typhus in the bud.

PRETTY VEIL ARRANGEMENT FOR THE BLUSHING BRIDES OF MAY AND JUNE

The season of big church weddings is at hand and that means that white satin gowns, rare laces and orange blossoms are interesting many a young prospective bride. The veil is always an all-important affair for the "big wedding." There are many charming and alluring arrangements for either tulle or lace veils. Pretty little cap effects, gracefully draped turban effects and many other modes are the vogue. Here, however, is a very youthful and attractive arrangement. The tulle is gathered at the back of the head in a deep ruffle which stands up like a pretty cap. A wreath of orange blossoms worn over the forehead and allowed to hang down one side holds the veil in place.

A HOT BATH IS NOW A LUXURY

Berlin.—The hot bath has become such a luxury in Germany owing to the shortage of coal and the manner in which the government regulates the distribution of fuel that many persons have ceased bathing. Others have gathered courage for an ice sponge daily, but this is not popular for the houses are generally cold and exposure in cold rooms after a chilly tub paves the way for colds and pneumonia. Ordinarily a family can afford hot water once every two weeks. Hotels where nationals of Entente nations reside supply running hot water.

Public baths, where once a plunge or a tub was available for a few pfennigs have been forced to close or raise prices beyond the reach of workmen and salaried workers. Only expensive bathing places remain open, for the patronage of the profiteers. In Berlin six of eight bathing establishments have gone out of business.

This situation has produced hygienic conditions which have caused much discussion among health authorities and suggestions have been made that the several cities assume the task of providing proper public bathing facilities. However the cities also are handicapped by lack of funds, shortage of coal and the government rationing regulations. Nearly all German houses in the cities are equipped with modern plumbing and numerous bathrooms and before the war the Germans were insistent on the daily hot bath.

Don't Hide Under a Bushel Basket.

If you are in business, you should not hide that business under a bushel basket. It takes the light of publicity to make your business grow.

Will Your Town Stop Or Move Ahead?

This is the simple fact. The United States needs more electricity to run its mills and mines to light its streets and houses, to lighten the labor of the home, to increase the production and lower costs

THERE are 5,000,000 homes within reach of electricity waiting to be wired. The use of electricity for washing, ironing, sweeping and cooking has hardly more than begun.

Nearly every electric light and power company knows that it must expand tremendously in the next four years if it is to keep up with the demand. Figures taken from Electrical World indicate that the equipment of these companies will have to be nearly doubled; and that means an additional investment of not millions, but of approximately four billions of dollars.

We Can Speak Frankly About This, Having No Axe to Grind

ELECTRICAL WORLD is not owned by the electric light and power companies. It is an independent property, one of the eleven journals of service published by the McGraw-Hill Company, Inc., New York. It is in a position to speak frankly both to its industry and for its industry.

COLLIER'S ITSELF SAID:
"Our public and our utilities will have to pull together if either is to prosper. They will not prosper separately."

It has spoken frankly to the electric light companies for years. It has said: "Give service; give better and better service; take the public into your confidence all along the line."

'And what the electric light companies have done is hardly short of miraculous. You seldom stop to think of it. You touch a button and the light goes on, or the motor starts—a light that has been made constantly better and cheaper in the past twenty-five years when everything else was costing so much more; a motor that does the work of a hundred or five hundred men.

The miracle of that light or motor has become a commonplace part of your life; but it is a miracle none the less.

The electric light companies have a right to be proud of it; and Electrical World can boast of it, even though the companies do not.

Power Supply—the Key to Progress

AND now Electrical World turns from its readers to the readers of Collier's: from the men who own and operate the electric lighting companies, to their customers, to you and says:

"The time is here when all of us must do well by our electric light and power companies if we want to do well by ourselves.

"Four billions in new capital can come only from the little savings of the many. And the companies must have this new capital or the nation will be stopped in its progress because it has outgrown its power and its lights.

"Take a good look ahead at your city or town. Is it going to move forward swiftly or stumble and halt? The answer lies in the steady growth of your electric light and power company, as much as anywhere else. For no city moves forward unless it can see clearly and has all of the power it can use."
